

Design

Leonardo AW-109 GrandNew on behalf of a private client

Our customer utilised ALTEA's interior & exterior design and customer representation services for the design and specification of this unique private helicopter.

ALTEA was regularly on site at Leonardo's facilities in Italy for production oversight, completion management, final delivery.

Design

- Complete custom interior & exterior design
- Every detail considered, exceeding customer's expectations
- ALTEA raised supply chain ambition, continuing support to final delivery

Design

From concept to completion, ALTEA is known for precise attention to detail.

The team has enjoyed award-winning success in the business jet arena having secured exclusive mandates for the acquisition, interior design and outfitting of aircraft, notably for governments, Heads of State and large corporations.
